Display systems for cities, municipalities and public institutions

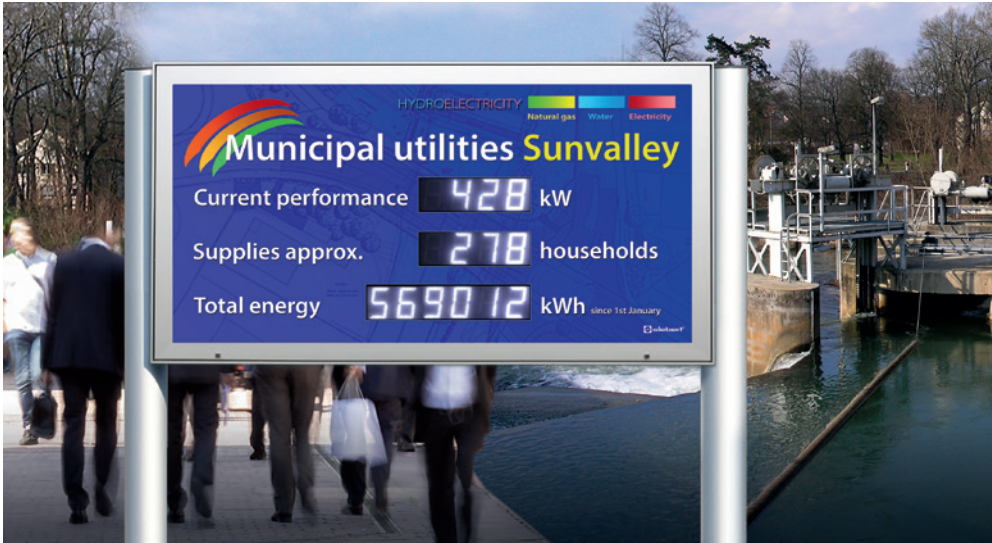

Public accessibility made visible

To inform citizens and guests with effective presentation about the current facilities and services in the municipality – for this the electronic information boards of Siebert are the ideal medium, even with a smaller budget.

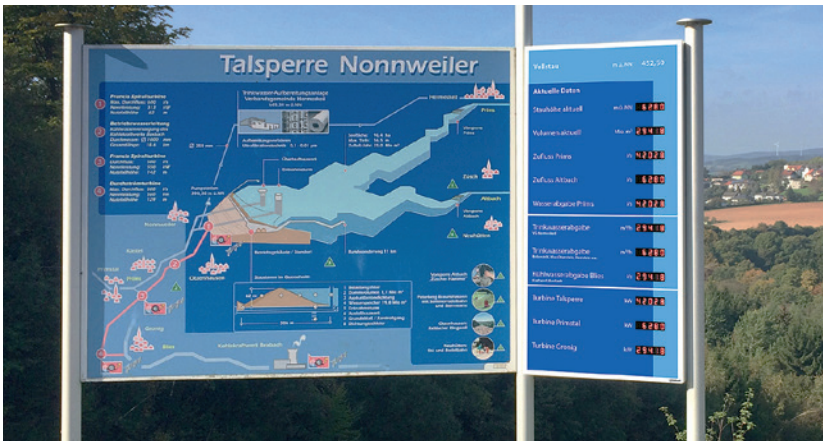

They arouse the interest of the public and convey your message and your information widely visible in an emotionally appealing way with pictures, movies or animations.

The devices which are specially designed for outdoor use are available as one- and double- sided readable versions.

Placed in an exposed position these display systems are a business card for cities and municipalities. The information to be displayed are easily created on the PC – and sent to the display via GSM, wireless or hard-wired.

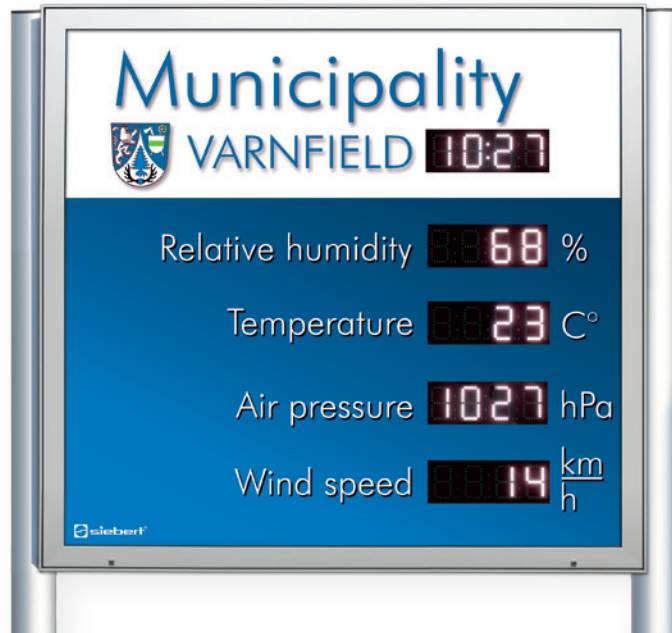

Display systems for energy and environment

Display energy efficiency

With future-oriented technology you invest in renewable energies. But how does the public becomes aware of your commitment for the environment, if for example the photovoltaic system is not to be seen on top of the building? With Siebert digital displays you make your commitment for the environment visible – in the foyer, in the entrance hall or public appeal outdoors.
